IN MEMORIAM

Roger Dale Chapman
1943-1964

David Michael Misenheimer
1947-1964

It was with a feeling of sadness that the students of Ragsdale learned of the tragic deaths of Roger Chapman and Mike Misenheimer.

Roger, a graduate in the class of 1961, was an outstanding young man who will be remembered for his service to the school and its students.

Mike, a member of the class of 1966, has been sorely missed at Ragsdale this year. His friendly smile and sunny disposition brightened the day for many with whom he came in contact.

We at Ragsdale will miss Roger and Mike.

THAT WONDERFUL YEAR

This school year has been a year filled with excitement, happiness, laughter, friendship, and study. Some of these moments may seem insignificant and meaningless, but all of these made this a memorable year. Whether cheering your team to victory, cramming for tests, enjoying an assembly, or having a "blast" at the social functions, you will come to cherish and treasure these moments of your high school life, for they all made up THAT WONDERFUL YEAR.

In this volume of the Echo these memories have been collected and preserved so that you may never forget ---- THAT WONDERFUL YEAR.

DEDICATION

It is a privilege for the Senior Class to pay honor to two well-deserving members of the Ragsdale faculty. For many years these two teachers have given unstintingly of their time and their talents to help young people in their struggle for knowledge. Through the guidance and teaching of these individuals, their students have developed the ability of thinking logically and have mastered the technique of problem solving.

Because of their loyalty to their students and to the teaching profession, the 1965 ECHO is proudly dedicated to Mrs. Sara Moss and to Mr. J. H. Mourane.

Mrs. Sara Moss

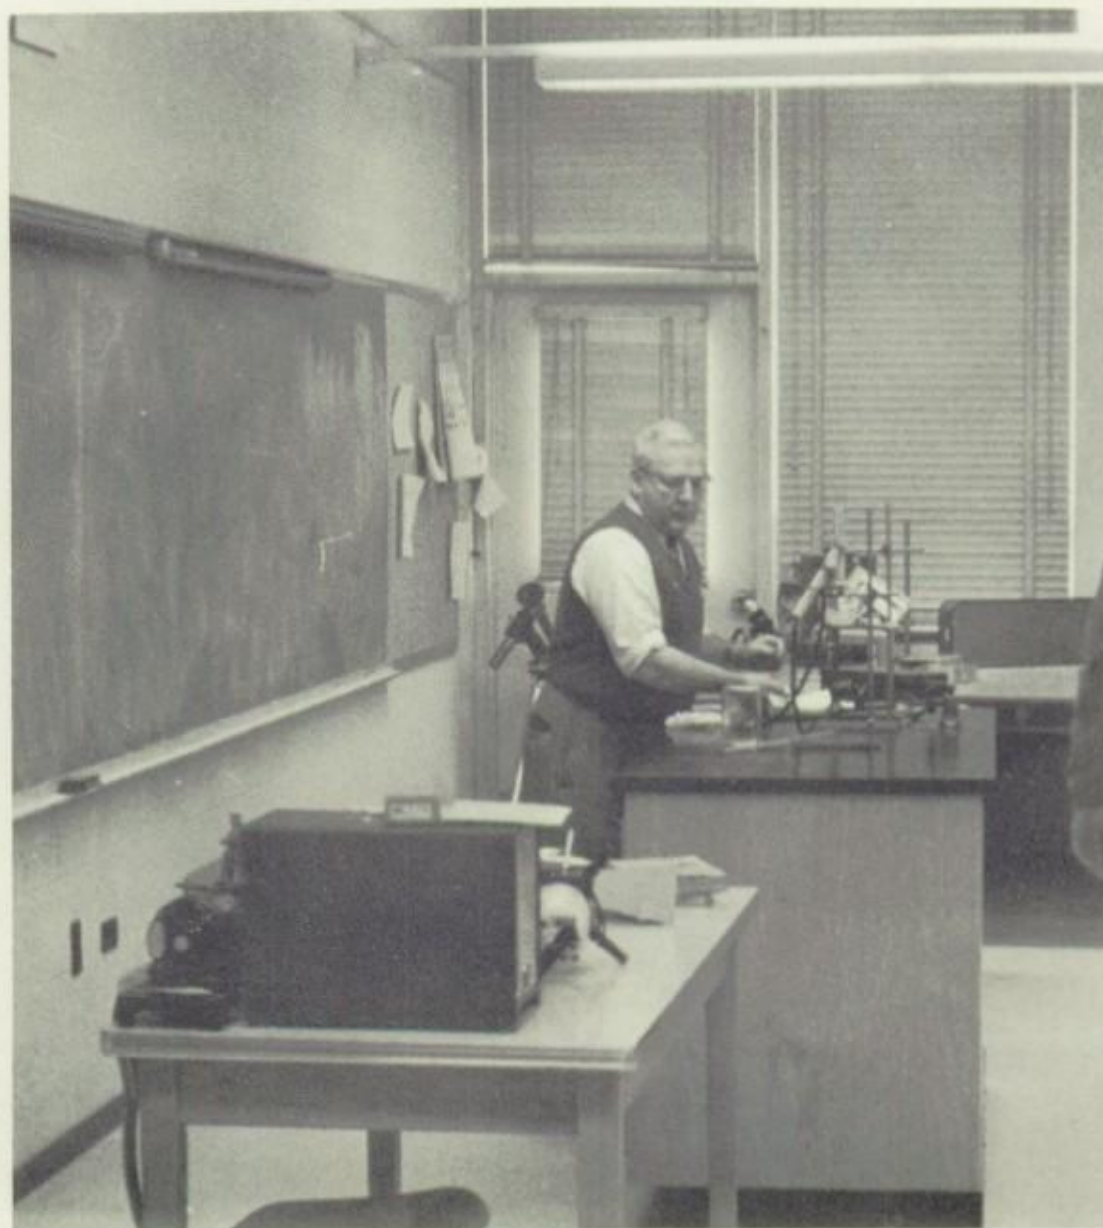

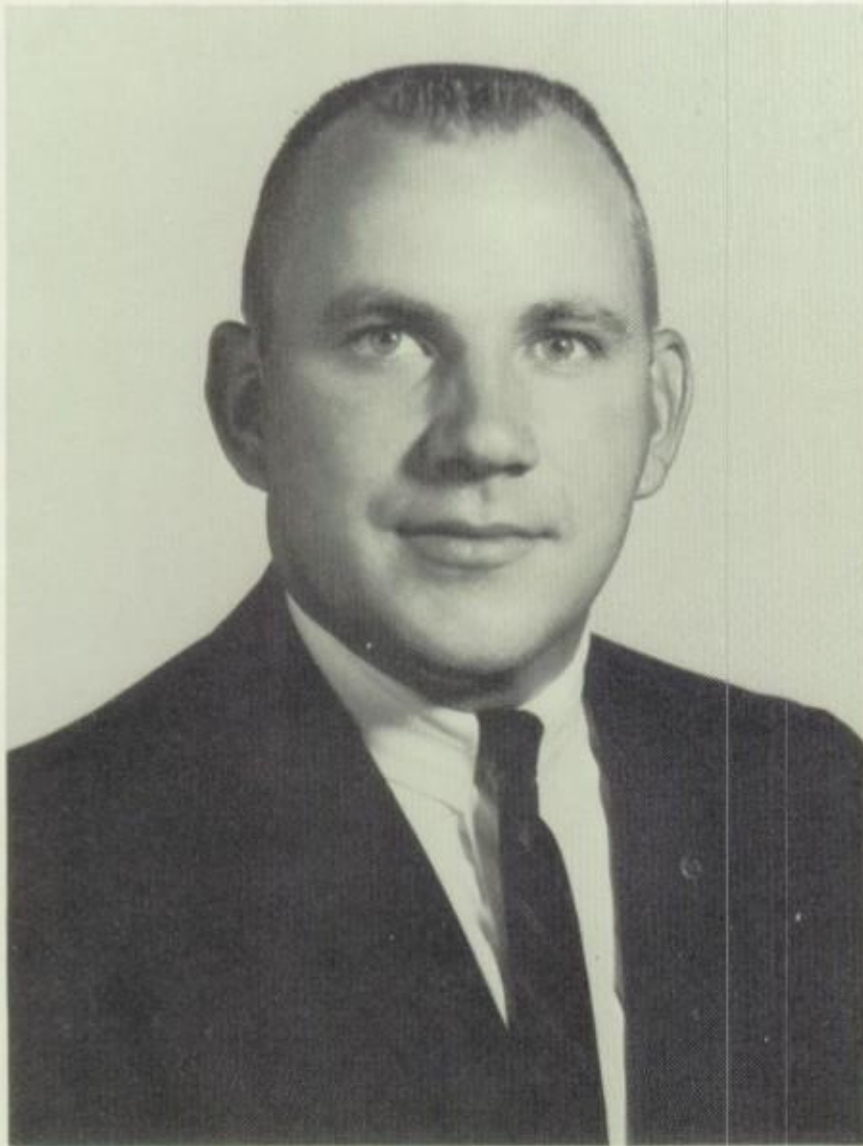

Mr. J. H. Mourane

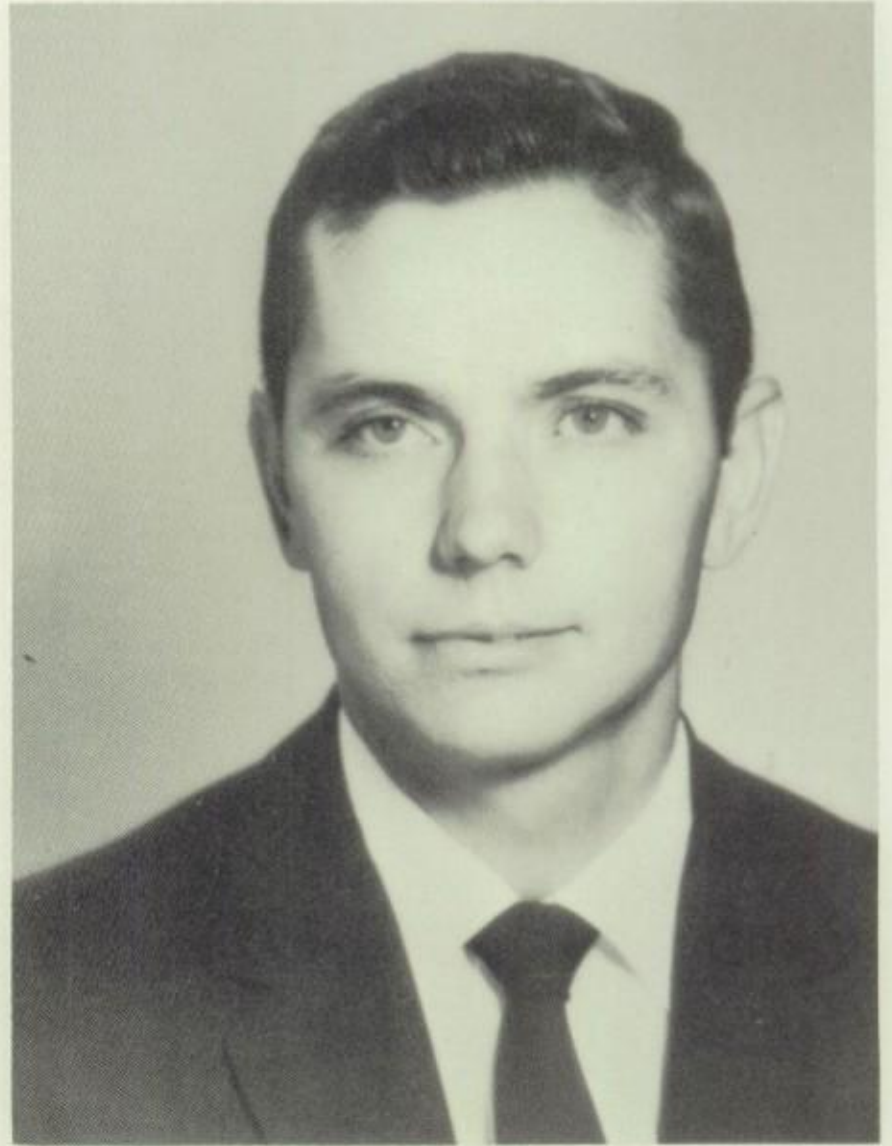

Working a problem in co-ordinate geometry is a common happening in Mrs. Moss's classroom, where, throughout the years, she has given unselfishly of her services and has been a most valuable individual in our school.

With his keen sense of humor and his sincerity in teaching, Mr. J. H. Mourane, better known to his students as Fess, has won the respect and friendship of all.

Mr. T. G. Madison, Jr.
Principal

Mr. Ralph Moran
Assistant Principal

ADMINISTRATION

A friendly word of encouragement when the going gets tough and an active concern for each boy and girl have made students realize that the administration and faculty are genuinely interested in each and every one. They have been more than school personnel; they have been guides, counselors, and friends. As this year draws to an end, the students realize the debt they owe to Mr. Madison and Mr. Moran for their patience and understanding in dealing with the more than a thousand students of Ragsdale. To the faculty, they wish to say "thank you" for the work done in shaping their future.

CURRICULUM

English students find the library indispensable in preparing their English assignments.

ENGLISH

Whether they are preparing for a test on Silas Marner, listening to recordings of Macbeth, or mastering the intricacies of debating, students find their English classes varied and challenging.

Early in their freshman year, they learn that book reports and theme writing are as necessary in the study of English as grammar and spelling.

As upper classmen they master the technique of more complex writing, such as essays, precis, and term papers. As seniors they find the speech and dramatics classes open to them.

Throughout their four years, students have been encouraged to make use of the library, to become more discriminating in their reading tastes, and to gain experience in self-expression.

LANGUAGE

Our French students study hard as they struggle to master French vocabularies, desperately try to memorize French verbs, and strive to improve their accents by listening to French pronunciation records. Many find the course so interesting, they pursue the course for three years.

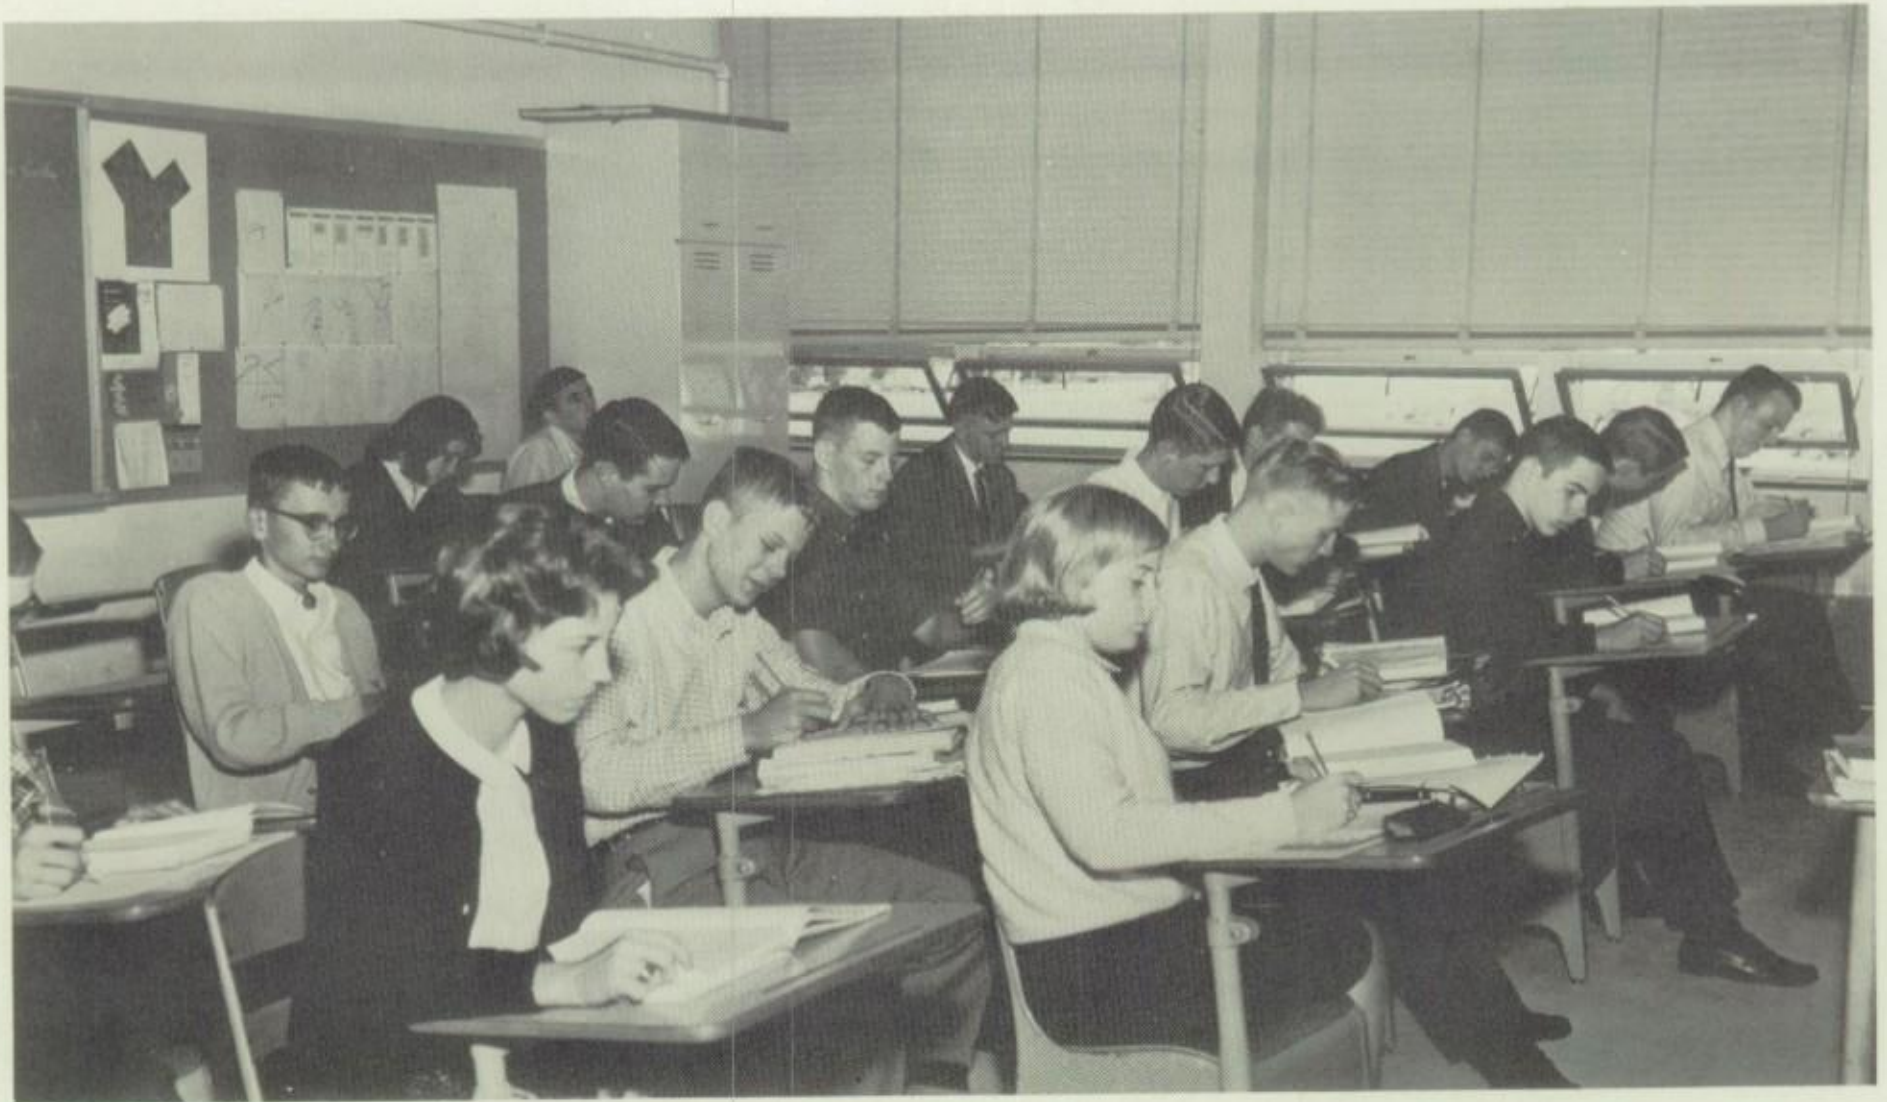

The French students are proud of their new language lab.

The fascinations of an ancient civilization encourage many freshmen and sophomores to enroll in Latin classes. Through the study of grammar, vocabulary, and Latin translations, students have learned much about the Roman people and their contributions to the modern world.

Freshmen work diligently to complete their Latin assignments.

MATH

More advanced students work diligently as they master problems in geometry.

General mathematics, business arithmetic, elementary, intermediate, and college algebra, plane and solid geometry, and trigonometry--all these courses are offered by the mathematics department. Whatever the student plans for his future, there is some course in mathematics which will be helpful to him.

General math students make good use of the chalk board in working problems.

SCIENCE

The chemistry lab offers students an opportunity to learn by doing.

Although only two units in science are required for graduation, many students take advantage of the excellent courses offered by the science department. In addition to biology, which is required of all sophomores, chemistry, with its equations and experiments, attracts many students, particularly juniors and seniors, are often attracted to physics and the study of physical changes of matter. Advanced biology, a comparatively new subject in our curriculum, appeals to many students preparing for a career in the paramedical field.

Advanced biology class has become one of our most popular science classes.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The social studies classes offer much valuable information about the past and present of our country and the world. Regular classes in world history, United States history, geography, economics and sociology, and Problems of American Democracy, offer students an interesting variety of courses. The classes emphasize oral reports, map construction, projects dealing with the subject matter being studied, panel discussions, and the study of current events.

Geography students become familiar with the many changes being made on the maps of the world.

Panel discussions offer students many opportunities to exchange ideas.

HOME ECONOMICS

The home economics department offers girls training in the basic courses of cooking and sewing. The students study homemaking, nutrition, and home nursing. Of particular interest are the classes in Family Living, open to senior boys and girls. In these classes students show much interest in teenage problems and their solutions. Field trips, panel discussions, and class projects contribute much to the success of the classes.

Home economics students master the intricacies of the sewing machines.

Lunch will be ready in a minute.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The band under the direction of Mr. Paul Rainey is very active throughout the year. The members presented excellent half-time programs during the football season, played a major part in the homecoming program, and have ably assisted in the activities of the school. They also participate in district and state contests.

The glee club, with Mrs. Vivian Davis as director, has also contributed much to the musical phase of the school life. In addition to presenting an outstanding PTA program in December, they are frequently called upon to entertain at community clubs and other functions. Each year they take an active part in county, district, and state contests, clinics and festivals.

ART

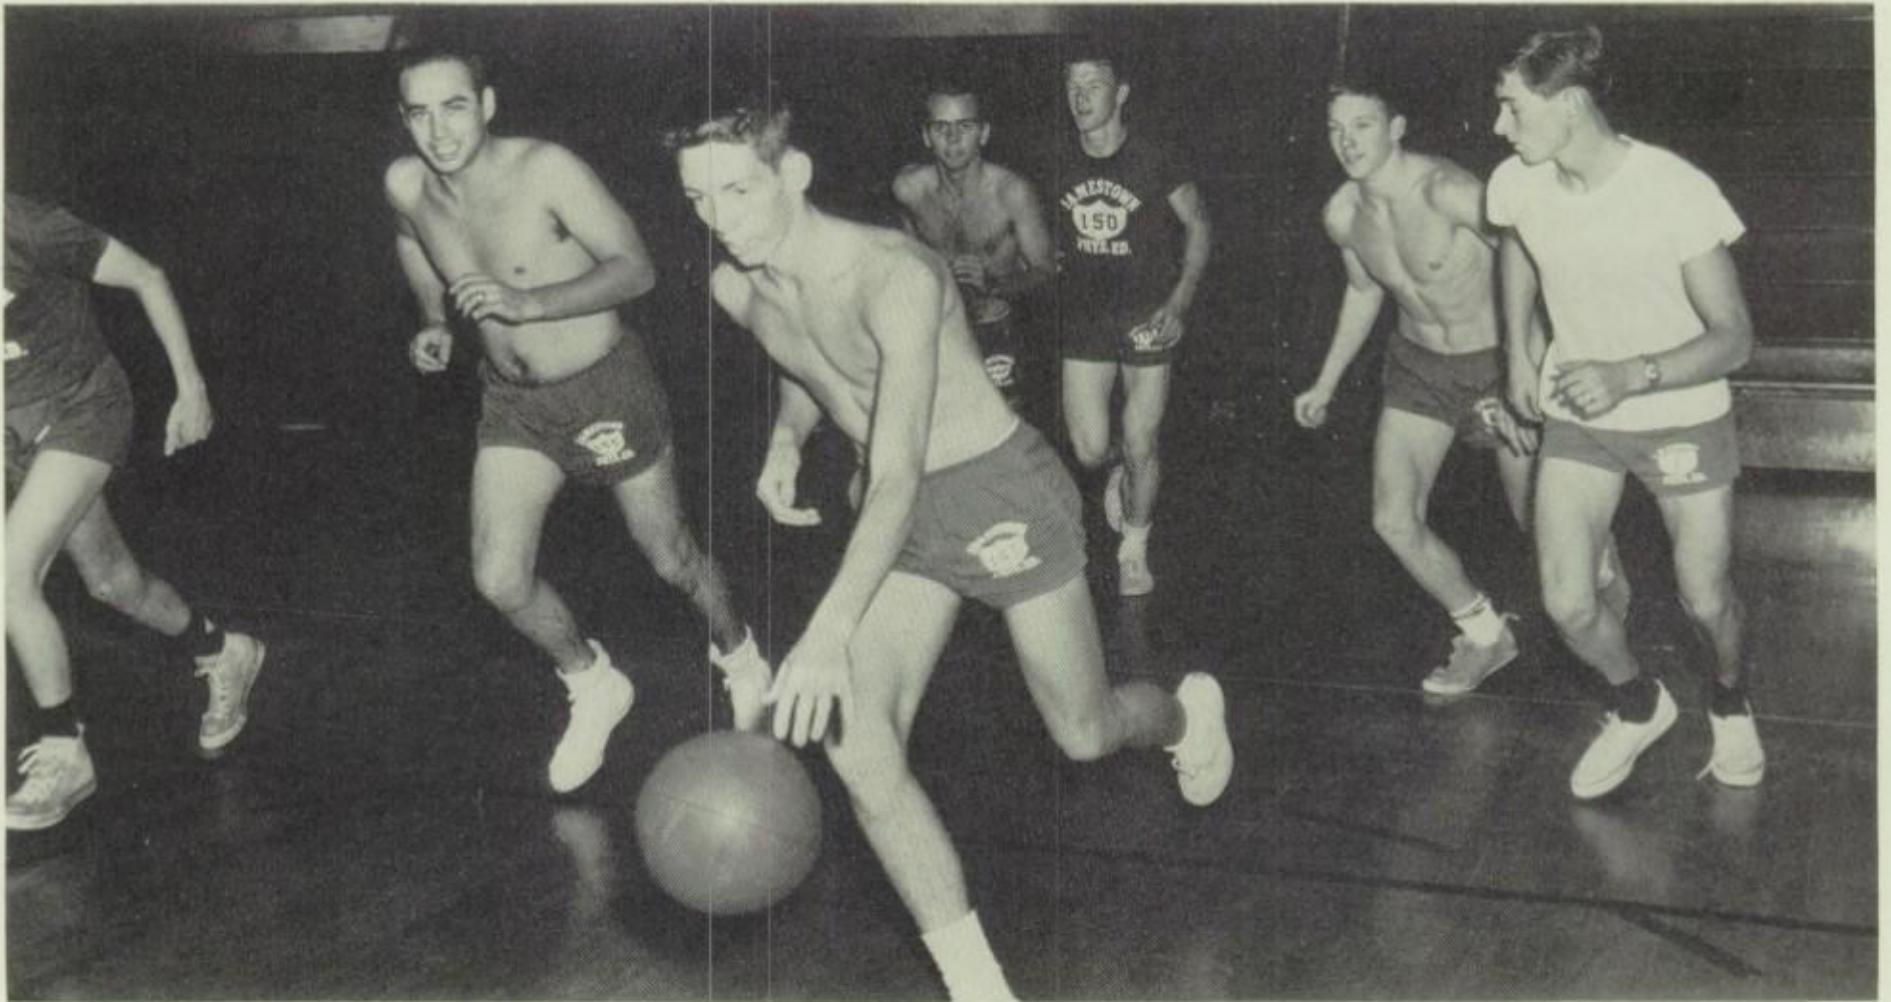

Bulletin boards, posters, stage scenery, - the art department is always ready to do its part when called upon to help. In regular class activity the students carry on many interesting and attractive projects. They always participate in the Scholastic Art program sponsored by WFMY-TV.

Students keep busy on individual projects.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Get that ball from Delbert, Richard!!!

One, two, three - - - -

Through freshman and advanced courses in physical education, the students at Ragsdale learn how to keep physically fit.

COMMERCIAL DEPT. and D.E.

The commercial and distributive education courses give students valuable training which will prepare them for entering into the world of work after graduation. Students learn how to apply for jobs and also what is expected of them after they have been gainfully employed. In D. E. II students actually get high school credit as they earn money working in stores, restaurants or other approved places.

D. E. students, headed by Mr. Harden, prepare for their convention.

Office practice class gives students practice in using various business machines.

A D.E. class learns how to hunt jobs.

Typists at work.

PRACTICAL ARTS

The practical arts class gives students basic training in the use of tools.

DRIVER TRAINING

Coach Klosterman gives many hours of careful instruction to his driver training classes.

GUIDANCE COUNSELING

It makes no difference whether it's a question of entrance requirements for a certain college, information about a job after high school, or a problem to be talked over with someone the guidance counselors, Miss Harrell and Mrs. Lane, are always willing to help wherever they can.

It would be difficult for anyone at Ragsdale to get along without the helpful services of its efficient secretary, Mrs. Wrike, who is always willing to extend a helping hand wherever needed.

CAFETERIA

The cafeteria staff, headed by Mrs. Blackburn, works hard to serve nourishing meals to the many students at Ragsdale.

CLASSES

SENIORS

Seniors at last! The year that 218 seniors have been anticipating for twelve years is about to come to a close. This year has been special. Perhaps it has been because of the extra responsibilities and privileges, or perhaps it has been because of the respect and admiration of the underclassmen, or perhaps it is because of the special unity in the class.

There have been many events during the year which have left a deep impression on each member of the class. Pep rallies, athletic events, homecoming, club activities, dances, the Junior-Senior Prom--all have helped make 1964-1965 a memorable year.

As this year comes to a close and graduation becomes more of a reality than a dream, each senior realizes that a very special and wonderful part of his life is over. There is happiness because, to the senior, graduation is but the threshold which leads to a promising future, a future as close as a diploma and graduation.

Loren Davis, Diana Hayworth, Ronda Hodgins and Frank Vanstory admire their long awaited diplomas.

Junior classmen started their year anticipating many wonderful events. As upperclassmen they eagerly awaited the arrival of their class rings. Then there was the fun of planning for and attending the Junior-Senior Prom. Many of the class enjoyed new experiences, such as organizing and writing term papers and serving as school bus drivers. As the class learned to accept added responsibilities, they felt themselves more worthy to accept that long-awaited title of "Senior".

With two years behind them, the sophomores feel acquainted with high school life. During their second year at Ragsdale, they have encountered many new experiences -- dissecting frogs, taking driver training, and receiving that wonderful driver's license. Although this has been a busy and exciting year for the sophomores, they are looking forward to next year when they will at least be upper-classmen.

The freshman class has begun its way on the long road to graduation. Along this road they will meet many new people and make many friends. They will become members of various clubs and sports activities. Many of the important lessons that freshman will learn about high school are not learned in books. High School is a world of fun and excitement mingled with hard work, disappointments, and problems. The freshman are beginning to realize that their school days are what they make them.

The purpose of the Beta Club is best stated in the national constitution. It says that the purpose of the Beta Club is "to promote the ideals of honesty, service, and leadership among the high school students of America, to reward meritorious achievement, and to encourage and assist students to continue their education after high school."

The Ragsdale Beta Club exists mainly for the benefit of the students. The main project is the operation of the Beta shop.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Mr. Haney, sponsor; Benny Blakewood, secretary; Charles Eakes, president; Sandra Rabhan, vice-president; Scott Osborne, treasurer.

Government at Ragsdale is partially vested in the hands of the student council. Students help to govern themselves. Four officers make up the executive branch; two representatives from each homeroom form the legislative body; and the judicial department is handled, when needed, by the judicial board as established by the constitution.

This year's student council has several programs, such as taking care of student driving, setting up service projects, promoting school spirit, building good citizenship, creating and encouraging scholarship, and correlating the various activities of the school.

Each of us participates in our student government. This student council is only as strong as its weakest member--and every student is a member of the student council as set forth in the constitution. Let us rest not our hopes in democracy unless we live concerting our efforts for the betterment of mankind through the example we set.

ECHO

Gayle Jones - Co-editor

1964

Sandra Rabhan - Co-editor

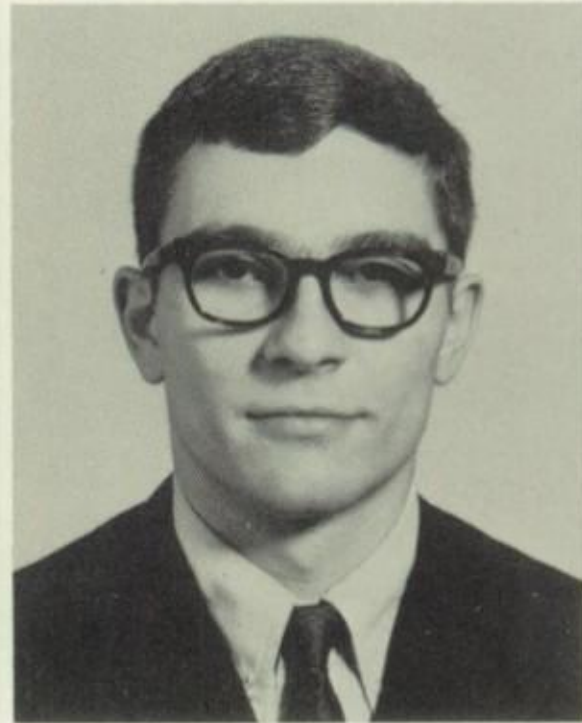

Day and night one finds the ECHO staff working diligently to meet their deadlines. After selling ads, making lay-outs, alphabetizing names, labeling pictures, writing captions, typing pages, and finally proof reading each page, the material is ready to be sent to Delmar. Then come anxious weeks of waiting until the proof is returned and then in May comes the long-awaited news "The ECHOS are here!"

It is the hope of the staff that the 1965 ECHO will offer to students an outstanding collection of their memories of THAT WONDERFUL YEAR.

THE HI-LIGHTS is one of the literary endeavors of the school, allowing students to express themselves through the means of journalistic writing. Students from the junior and senior classes are members of either the business, news, feature, club and class, sports, typing, or art and photography staffs. Stories for each month's issue are assigned by staffs and turned in by a set deadline.

As a member of the Southern Inter-scholastic Press Association, THE HI-LIGHTS upholds certain standards and policies adhered to by that organization. Staff members work for a good rating by the S I P A.

Mu Alpha Theta is an international mathematics organization for junior and senior high school students and freshmen and sophomore college students. International headquarters are located at the University of Oklahoma in Norman.

The math club at Ragsdale High School became affiliated in 1959 under the sponsorship of Mrs. Sarah Moss. Because of the high standards, the Mu Alpha Theta is a selective club having only twenty members presently on roll. Of these members, a majority plan a career requiring much math. The purpose of the club is to further the interest in mathematics and to present the newest ideas in its field to the club.

Ragsdale High is one of the few high schools in North Carolina that is fortunate enough to have this distinguished club. Different club members present the program, which usually consists of speakers, mathematical puzzles, and debates. To be sure, there is never a dull moment if one is a member of the Mu Alpha Theta.

Business students engaged in such activities as helping teachers with their typing, duplicating, and clerical work. The FBLA'ers have continued last year's project of compiling an alumni file and editing student directories.

At their regular meetings, the students have enjoyed demonstrations of business machines, entertaining talks by prominent businessmen, and participation in parliamentary procedure studies.

At the 11th Annual State Convention in Durham, the chapter members participated in contests and exhibits. Steve Moore, a member of the local chapter, has received distinction as state vice president and as national regional vice president. He was elected to the latter office at the National Convention in Washington, D. C., last summer.

LIBRARY CLUB

This year the Ragsdale Library Club membership has been a small one of only twenty-six members. However, eighteen of this number have worked in the library as assistants for at least one hour each day. The others have worked after school or during lunch hour or in study periods when they could find time for the many varied routines and duties which are so important to keep the library operating. The members have assisted in processing about two thousand new books during the entire year. This included assisting with the ordering and cataloging as well as with other technical aspects.

One major project of the school year was the display of about five hundred new books during the two week period of National Book Week and American Education Week at which time special invitations were issued to all the faculty and student teachers to make a special visit to the library.

One outstanding attraction in our library this past year was the art work of some of the Seniors directed by Bonnie Foust, who joined the club for the first time this year. She worked many extra hours to make original and clever seasonal displays and exhibits for the corridors.

This is the first year that our library has had the services of an assistant librarian, and she helped greatly in directing student activities. In December Mrs. Barbara Bolden joined Mrs. Oliver as assistant on a part time basis. As a result the library club was able to have a very active year.

Debating is a rewarding experience for those who participate in it. The student who gives his best effort gains much in return. Learning to organize material in logical order and learning to support statements with facts instead of prejudice is an important benefit of debating.

Debating demands accuracy and sound reasoning. It requires a knowledge of the library. A debater learns to think under pressure and to make sound decisions. Those who participate in debating also gain valuable skill in public speaking and oral presentation.

The debating club selects a varsity debating team, composed of two affirmative and two negative speakers, and one or more junior varsity teams for debates throughout the year. The varsity teams represent the school in local, district, and state competition each year.

ATHLETICS

ATHLETICS 1964-1965

Ragsdale offers its students a varied athletic program in which they can participate or which they can attend as interested spectators. As they look back over the year, they think of the thrilling football games played both at home and away, and they remember with pride the successful season which they enjoyed with the basketball team. In recent months they have rejoiced with the victories of the baseball, track, and golf teams and have been saddened by their defeats.

For those students who do not qualify for varsity teams, there have been junior varsity and intramural sports for them to enjoy. The year 1964-1965 has been exciting and busy for the sportsminded students at Ragsdale.

Practice makes perfect.

The Ragsdale High School football team, unfortunately fell short of its goal this year. In spite of hard work and the desire to win, the team was plagued by injuries. Some of the better players were sidelined or forced to see limited action during the season. The Tigers wound up the season with a 4-5-1 won, lost, tied record. The team appreciated the loyal support of the cheerleaders and the student body members who so faithfully attended the games.

GOLF TEAM

First row: John Ingold, Bobby Brooks, Richard Hartman, Bobby Korsted, Kenneth Gregory, Jimmy Smith, Bobby Tracy, David Catlin, Timmy Jones. Second row: Mr. Paul Rainey (Coach),

The outlook for Ragsdale's Golf Team is by far the most promising of any previous year. Under the leadership of Mr. Paul Rainey and the support of many fine golfers, the golf team should be most successful this year.

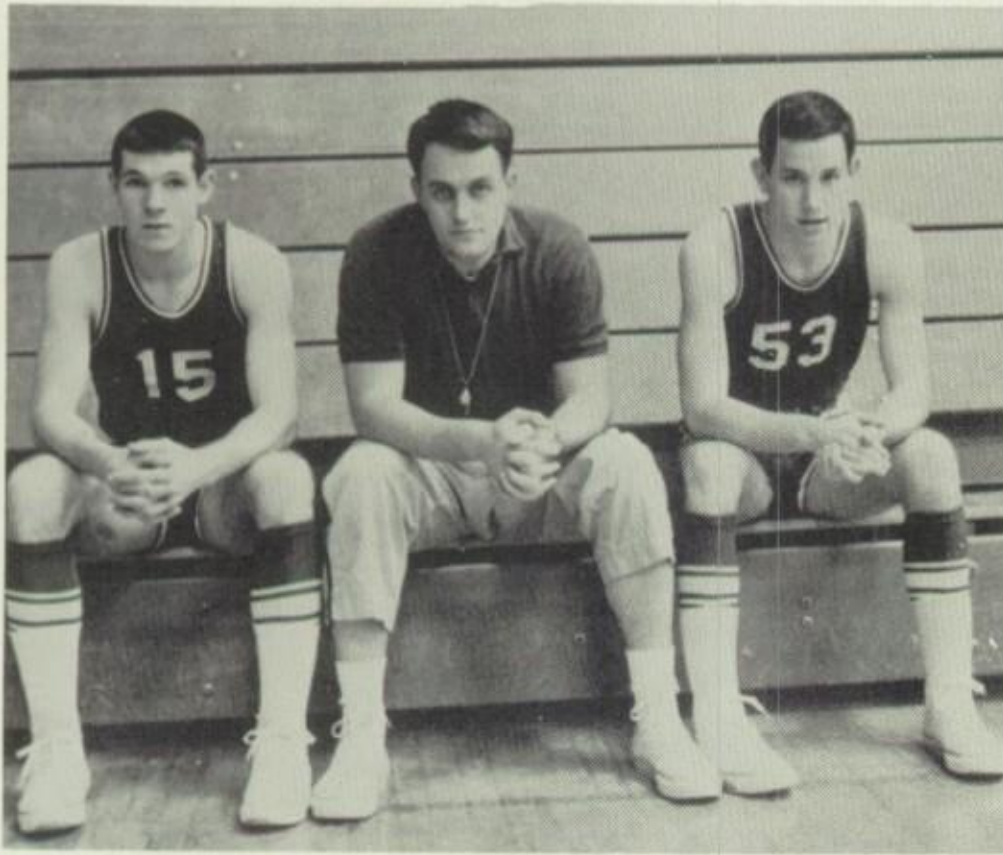

Mr. Paul Rainey, (Coach), Bobby Brooks, (Captain).

BOYS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Ragsdale High School basketball team, under the able leadership of Coach Donnie Hunt, experienced an excellent season. They were able to knock off some of the best teams in the conference and removed at least one strong team from the rolls of the undefeated.

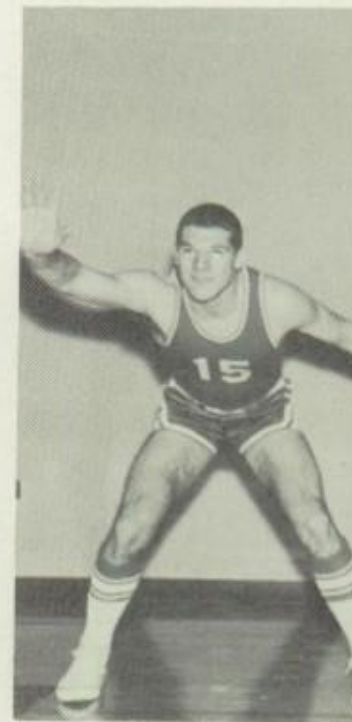

The team supplied a wealth of manpower on the court, and with the support of the student body they achieved a record of which they could be justly proud.

Coach Hunt and captains Powell and Bullock plan their strategy.

The girls' basketball team at Ragsdale showed much improvement this year. This year was one of building for the Tigerettes since the team was composed mainly of freshmen and sophomores.

Even though the Tigerettes didn't have much height on their team, they were always in there fighting--shooting, struggling for rebounds and hustling after loose balls. Each girl showed co-operation along with the desire to win.

The motto of the team this year has been: "It's not the size of the Tiger in the fight, but the size of the fight in the Tiger."

BASEBALL

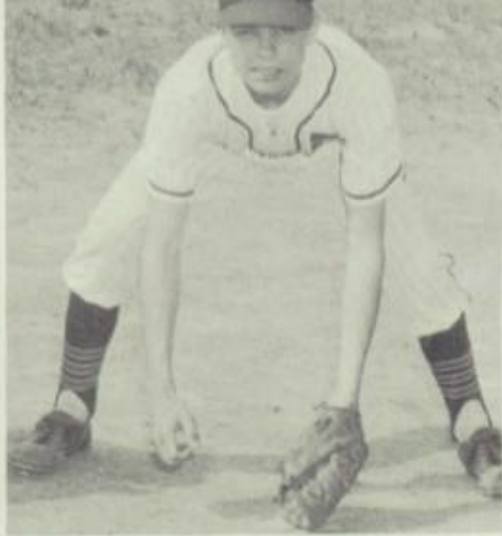

Although the record of 6-7-1 was not the best, the 1964 team showed that at times they could play "heads up" ball. The team lost several close ball games which easily could have gone the other way. Win or lose, however, the team always shows good sportsmanship, and Ragsdale students appreciate those who worked so hard to make baseball an important sport here at school.

Jeff,

I don't really know how to start this, but I'll try. You've been a really great friend to me this year, Jeff, and I do appreciate it.

We've had our differences - right? But then differences draw friends closer together. I'm glad I had two classes with you this year - maybe we can have more next year (so come back!)

Many days when I've been in terrible moods, you've made me laugh and you've put happiness in my day. Without you in Trig., I couldn't have lasted through this year. Your wit is too wonderful to throw away - so bring it back next year and help me last through it, too.

We've had lots of good times together when we've double dated (Remember?) I've enjoyed being places you've been because you keep everything lively.

Jeff, I'll never be able to thank you for all the advice and help you've given me. You've pulled me through many crises.

I really do hope you come back next year to good ole Lagsdale. We'll all supper together.

I want to wish you the best of luck always in your future years. You're a most deserving person Jeff, and a very sincere one, too. The person you final settle down with will be a lucky one. I also wish you and Leatha ~~the~~ much happiness - you both are great people.

P.S. THANK YOU, JEFF

Your friend forever,
Annie

Jeff,
We enjoyed being in your Trif and English
You really are a great guy, even though we've had some differences toward the end of school. I'm really not trying to take it away from you, even though it may look like it. Have a nice summer and go back next year.
Bruce Martin

Dearest Jeff,

5/26/65

I would like to express the true value that I place on your friendship, but I'm afraid I'd have to write a volume. Maybe I could just sum it all up by saying that your friendship is my most prized possession.

We have enjoyed many wonderful times together which I shall never forget. Among the most enjoyable perhaps would be the prom (after the prom!). Actually though, I wouldn't attempt to single out any particular moment we shared as the most enjoyable. You have made the past two months of school an actual pleasure, if you can possibly imagine that! I only hope that I have contributed at least a small part to your high school memories. (The pleasant ones that is!)

You know, Jeff, of all the people I've ever known you are, beyond any reason of a doubt, the most sincere. I consider that your most outstanding characteristic. I can certainly understand why anyone would choose you to confide in. It seems as though everyone wants you to re-live the past, Jeff, but the future is the most important time of your life. You should have spent the past seventeen years learning how to live, but the next years should be spent living life at its fullest.

I want to thank you, Jeff, for all the wonderful times you've shown me. I only hope that we can spend much more time together this summer and in the years to come.

With your wonderful personality and intelligence you have a very bright future, Jeff. You are a very determined person, and that alone will make you a success in life. If any unexpected change in plans should take you from Razsdale, just remember that you will always remain very dear to me, Jeff. I just hope that you will choose to finish school at Raggsdale. Not that it's so great by any means, but I need your companionship and friendly smile as a guiding light in my senior year.

Hope you have a wild and wonderful summer. If things work out right, I'll be seeing ya quite frequently! (Yes, quite!)

Best of luck and happiness always and forever to the sweetest guy in the world, who takes life more seriously than anyone I know!

"Loving you,"

Leatha Elliott

P.S.

Don't ever lose your sincerity and baby-blue eyes!

Je t'aime!
